Guardsmen Reach City; Will Take Field Tonight

Full Regiment Including Militia of Other Islands to Go Into Camp

National Guard headquarters presented a busy scene this morning, with the regimental staff officers and the headquarters staff hard at work arranging the final details of the militia camp, which opens this evening. By afternoon, Captain Johnson, the regimental quartermaster, will have the tents up, and a model nine-company camp laid out at Moanalua. A working detail of twenty men went out ahead of the regiment, and everything will be in readiness for the citizen soldiers when they arrive.

Mauli has made a splendid turn-out, the two companies arriving this morning on the Claudine being well up to their enlisted strength. Lahaina sends Company L, with Captain Sam Kellie, First Lieutenant Searle, Second Lieutenant Kakuani and 51 enlisted men. Company I, from Wailuku, is commanded by Captain Bal. First Lieutenant Kamehale, Second Lieutenant Kae and 58 men complete the organization.

These two companies, together with the company from Hawaii and the six Oahu companies, will assemble at the army this evening, and at 7:30 will march for Moanalua. It will take fully two hours to reach the camp, and the men will not do much besides turn in until tomorrow morning, when will commence the series of drills, exercises, lectures and tactical walks leading up to the two days' problem which will wind up the encampment.

Officers and men are both looking forward to the game of war, for, besides providing valuable instruction, there will be a certain amount of pleasurable excitement in the mimic campaign. Although only the militia troops will be engaged, the problem, it is said, has been so ingeniously drawn up that it contains all sorts of tactical possibilities. Sunday morning and afternoon the soldiers will march and the action be concluded Monday morning. Monday afternoon camp will be struck and the period of field instruction over for the year.

Captain Walter Johnson, U. S. A., will be the regular army representative in his capacity of inspector-instructor of the Guard, and he will make an exhaustive report to the War Department, concerning the efficiency in the field of the Hawaiian militia. Dr. Mount, Medical Corps, U. S. A., will be sanitary inspector. The sanitary troops attached to the First Regiment will be in command of Captain-Surgeon Morong, and Lieutenant Colonel Cooper, surgeon general of the Guard, will be in camp a good part of the time, and will give special instruction and lectures to the sanitary troops. Colonel Cooper recently graduated from the Field Service School for Army Officers, and his work here will be of great value to the militia.

Horses have been provided for all the officers entitled to mounts.

POLITICAL NEWS AND NOTES

Following is the Democratic city and county slate as announced by Charles (Soapbox) Barron, who, it is understood wrote it but with singular modesty refrained from putting his own name on it. This may be explained, it is said, by the fact that he has aspirations toward the governorship:

For mayor, Joseph J. Fern.
For auditor, L. D. Timmons.
For treasurer, Col. Charles McCarthy.

For county clerk, John Effinger.
For county attorney, Clem Quinn.
For sheriff, William P. Jarrett.
For deputy sheriff, Charles H. Rose.
For supervisors, Richard H. Trent, president of Trent Trust Company; Edmund Stiles, of the Bank of Honolulu; Richard L. Gilliland, former deputy sheriff at Waiānae; Lester Peattie, master mechanic O. R. & L. Co.; William H. McClellan, present supervisor; M. C. Pacheco, chairman Territorial Democratic central committee, and Mr. Markham.

SECRETARY TAYLOR ON PLANS FOR HAWAII'S FAIR EXHIBIT

SAN FRANCISCO, August 19.—"If the plans of the Hawaiian Fair Commission for the 1915 Exposition are carried out the exhibit of that Territory at the coming World's Fair will surpass anything of its kind ever held in this country," said A. P. Taylor, secretary of the Board of Commissioners of the Territory of Hawaii, who arrived in this city on the steamship Sonoma and is now in conference with the Exposition officials.

Taylor declares that the work of the Hawaii Commission is well advanced and that plans and sketches for the exhibit are to be submitted to the Legislature at its next session. He is confident that $150,000 will be set aside for Hawaii's building and exhibit.

To Show Wonderful Scenery.
"Our plans contemplate a display of Hawaii's wonderful scenery in dramatic effects, showing the Volcano of Kilauea, the Nuuanu Pali, rugged coast scenes, and the deep gorges of the island of Kauai, which rival those of the Grand Canyon. Unfortunately, the last Legislature, in passing a measure for the appointment of a Fair Commission, did not appropriate funds for preliminary expenses, and the commission's work for some time was perfunctory. Funds have been placed in the hands of the commission, and comprehensive plans are being worked out."

"I doubt if there is a part of the American mainland which has scenic attractions to equal those of the Hawaiian Islands. There is a peculiar, subtle charm about the Hawaiian Islands which appeals to travelers, and those charms we expect to transfer in some form or another to San Francisco in 1915."

Transplant Native Charm.

The Vatican, however, can move effectively if it wishes. Indeed, the Pope has already sent an encyclical letter, to every archbishop, bishop, nuncio and papal delegate in South America calling for organized effort in the natives' behalf. The money needed to send the papal commission recently appointed into the Putumayo country is also assured.

POPE MAY ACT IN RUBBER SCANDAL

ROME, August 10.—The Pope is awaiting with deep anxiety the United States' action in the Putumayo rubber district in South America, according to Vatican officials. Unless the United States acts it is the Pontiff's view that he must do so, because he believes no one else with sufficient authority to accomplish anything can take the necessary steps to protect the Putumayo natives from the rubber dealers' cruelty without clashing with the Monroe Doctrine.

The Vatican, however, can move effectively if it wishes. Indeed, the Pope has already sent an encyclical letter, to every archbishop, bishop, nuncio and papal delegate in South America calling for organized effort in the natives' behalf. The money needed to send the papal commission recently appointed into the Putumayo country is also assured.
